

Faye Ioannou- Bio

Dr. Ioannou is a veterinary surgeon and has been working for the European Medicines Agency since 2006 on the regulation of veterinary medicines. She is primarily involved in the authorisation of novel vaccines and immunological products and has worked extensively on vaccines authorised under emergency circumstances and with accelerated timetables. Dr. Ioannou is also co-ordinating current EMA/HMA initiatives in the area of availability of veterinary vaccines in the EU. She has previously worked for the Food and Veterinary Office (FVO) of the European Commission as well as Pfizer Animal Health on the development of new veterinary vaccines. Between, 2001-2002 she assisted DEFRA in combating the FMD outbreak at the FMD Crisis Control Centre in Cumbria. She is a graduate of the Veterinary Medicine School of Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece, and has completed further studies in the area of European policies and economy. Dr. Ioannou is a Visiting Fellow of the Centre on Global Health Security at Chatham House (The Royal Institute of International Affairs), London.